Dave Murdock protects himself from Ronald Dailey as Muriel Smith looks on in the up-coming Drama Dept. production of "The Male Animal," set for July 21-24.

Second Production Is 'The Male Animal'

"The Male Animal," one of America's most popular and famous contemporary comedies, will begin a four day run Wednesday in the HFAC Drama Theatre.

The play was written by humorist James Thurber. It had a long run on Broadway and was made into a motion picture with Henry Fonda, Olivia DeHavilland, and Jack Carson.

DR. CHARLES L. Metten will direct the comedy. The cast will include Muriel Smith as Ellen Turner, Ronald Dailey as her husband Tommy, and David Murdock as Joe Ferguson.

The play concerns Tommy Turner, peacefully married to Ellen and comfortably settled as a teacher at Mid-Western University.

But complications appear as Joe Ferguson, Ellen's one-time unofficial fiancé and all-time Mid-Western football hero, comes to town and sees Ellen and Tommy, at the same time, becomes involved in a "Red" controversy with the trustees.

TOMMY DEFENDS his principles, challenges Joe to a fight and proves to Ellen that he is a pretty good example of the male animal.

Activity cards must be presented for each ticket obtained and must also be shown with the ticket at the door, according to Grant Edgerton, publicity director of HFAC, who stressed that activity cards are not transferable.

INDIVIDUAL TICKETS may be purchased without activity cards for $3.50 and group rates are available. Beginning July 14, ticket office hours will be 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The 1955-56 theatre season will be announced at "The Male Animal."

Deadline Near Of Timp Hike Photo Contest

Entries in the annual Timpahoe Hike photo contest are due by July 29 in order to be eligible for this year's awards, according to Robert Allen, photo contest chairman.

THE PHOTOS must be 2 x 2 inches of the mountain or of a human interest subject dealing with the mountain or the hike. Contestants should take or send their pictures to Allen's Photo Supply, 24 North University, Provo. The winning pictures will be duplicated and shown at the hike program on Friday night at Aspen Grove.

THOUSANDS are expected to be on hand for the program, which will include, in addition to seeing the winning slides, warding "Timp Sticks" to people who are being honored for their participation in the hike, and the telling of the legend of the mountain.

Special precautions have been taken for the hike this year, with class in mountain rescue work being taught during the first summer session, to handle safety and rescue operations on the trail.

BYU, PROVO elite groups and local peace officers combine in warding the hike, one of the most popular community mountain events in the country.

Valley Music Presents Theatre In The Round

Did you know that on a season ticket basis, you can see all four of the Valley Music Hall's Summer Season musicals for as little as $3.60. That's only 90 cents a show.

VALLEY MUSIC HALL was built so that the entire family could enjoy great shows, great stars, great performances. And good wholesome entertainment is what everyone will see. No "adult only" shows are planned.

Theater-in-the-round is "intimate" theater. As a member of the audience, you have the never-before-achieved experience of feeling that you are actually involved in the plot, in the action, in the music. One of the chief reasons for this feeling of involvement is that the entire theater, not just the stage, becomes the setting of the show.

THIS NEW entertainment form is sweeping the nation. Performers love it because for the first time they can really project their personalities into a part so completely that they feel the audience involvement and turn in the greatest performances of their careers.

Not since the days of Maude Adams and the historic Salt Lake Theater has there been such a gathering in Utah of so many of the world's top theatrical people as there is for the productions at Valley Music Hall.

NOT ONLY will the big stars of the stage and screen perform nightly at the new theater-in-the-round, but the big names who work behind scenes on Broadway and Hollywood will be on hand to bring out the best in every production.

If the love for good professional theater has stuck with Utahans since the days when Brigham Young encouraged this art form, for the first time in the lifetime of many, a dream will be realized with the July 19 opening of Valley Music Hall.

Thursday's Edition Of Daily Universe Sent to Newcomers

The Thursday edition of the Daily Universe will be supplemented this week by a special eight page edition prepared by the BYU News Bureau.

The edition, which will be mailed to all those interested in attending BYU in the fall, will include a perspective of the coming academic and extra-curricular year at BYU, according to Edwin Butterworth of the News Bureau.

Included in the special edition will be such information as the registration schedule for fall semester, the artists who will appear on the forum series and the athletic programs scheduled for the '65-'66 season.

On the following Friday an eight page Universe will be published as a conclusion to the first session of summer school.

Top Singers To Perform

Making his second appearance on the BYU campus, during the Summer Music Festival, will be the famous baritone Robert McFerrin, along with the California Jubilee Singers.

ACCOMPANIED by Sara McFerrin, the group will perform at 10 p.m. in the Joseph Smith Auditorium.

McFerrin has been receiving plaudits for his thrilling voice ever since his debut with the Metropolitan Opera as Amosino in Verdi's "Aida" in 1955. He thus became the second Negro to sing with the Metropolitan during its 70 year history and the first to become a regular member of the company.

DURING the summer of 1957 McFerrin performed with the Teatro San Carlo in Naples, Italy, where he also gave numerous recitals. In 1958 he represented the United States at the Brussels World's Fair, and later the same year made a concert tour of South America.

He sang the role of Porgy for the film soundtrack of "Porgy and Bess," released by Columbia Records in 1959.

The California Jubilee Singers were organized by McFerrin at the request of European impresarios. With himself as soloist, the group toured Scandinavia, Germany, France, Belgium, Italy and Greece in the autumn of 1961, and has been booked for a similar tour during the 1965-66 music season.

THE JUBILEE Singers present Negro spirituals with the rhythm and emotion of the plantation singers from past centuries. The group has fulfilled a dream of Dr. McFerrin, to bring forth the wonderful old spirituals sung by the original Jubilee Singers following the Civil War.

Annual Hike Postponed

The 1965 Timpahoe Hike has been postponed because of snow conditions on the trail.

The decision to move the hike was made Monday on the advice of the United States Forest Service, according to Daniel Heaton, general chairman of the hike.

It is impossible at this time for the Forest Service to build a trail on the switchbacks below Emerald Lake, he said.

Originally scheduled for Friday and Saturday the hike draws thousands to Mt. Timpahoe for what has become in the last half century the largest mass mountain climb in the United States.

Announcement of the exact date will be made in Friday's Universe.

Members of the world famous California Jubilee Singers will perform at 10 a.m. in the Joseph Smith Auditorium.

Fine Art

There is a "fine art" to getting in or out of the new Harris Fine Arts Center I found out this summer when I started for my first class there.

Since I had just finished my Whenties, the door did open after I braced both feet against the wall and pulled. The trick was squeezing into the building before the door snapped shut behind me like a frustrated bear trap.

The first time through I nearly made a clean entrance, but the door clamped shut on my shirt tail. Two coats rescued me. Seeing an elderly lady approaching a spring loaded door, I rushed ahead to open it for her. I charged the crash bar in a show of force, but only cracked my head on the unyielding barrier. Meanwhile the old lady passed lightly by the other side.

Lately I've revised my tactics. I wait for a for to open the door, then I nervously sneak through like a shadow. I know it's not gallant, but otherwise I just don't get out or in!

Yesterday I spent two hours wandering among the art pieces before I slipped out between two elementary students.

I don't know why the doors function like that. I know I'm not the only victim. Three classmates joined me in freeing a returned missionary last week. He now has a more pronounced houlglass figure.

Minutes later a petite coed swept through the same door with a push from her little pinkie. Maybe the physics department can explain it.

Clearance?

In regard to the article "Clearance Mandatory On All Campus Publicity," published in the July 1st Universe, I pose the following question: Is this action constitutional according to the U.S. Constitution?

Though the intentions of the Central Publicity Committee are good in that posters mostly done in or pencil are not college caliber and are eyesore to visitors and though the committee has no intention of denying a poster because of content, still the power exists to deny display of any poster. If used to its fullest extent, future use of this clearance would infringe on the rights of students and organizations.

I suggest that before mandatory clearance becomes permanent established, guidelines be set up and voted on by the student body, to limit the extent to which this power can be used; such as checking appearance not content of posters.

It is our responsibility as both students and good citizens to be come informed about the laws that govern us so a seemingly innocent law will not be passed which in the end limit our freedom.

Rumor

An ugly rumor is going around that Byron Cannon Anderson is a paid member of the Young Democrat Club on campus.

If this is not true, I am sure that Anderson would never be the error rectified immediately.

Thanks!

I would like to thank the girl who stole $28.00 from my best girlfriend's chest of drawers in R residence hall. I'm sure it made her feel very proud to be included as one of the fine members of this university where honor and trust are held in such high regard. I'm sure she's grateful to be free from further budget worries for the remainder of the summer months.

Just think, now she won't have to worry about such minor things as art supplies for her classes, or maybe a bit of spending money for such trivial things as Lagoon Day.

I'm glad you set such a good example for her as a freshman, and those already attending this university on more than ample funds provided by parents and friends.

Safe Driving Stressed; Precautions Reported

With the end of the first semester of summer school nearing, students are encouraged to be mindful of safe driving precautions, according to Alma King of the personnel services office at BYU.

In a recent release by the Utah Safety Council traffic deaths for the first six months of this year were slightly down from the same time in 1964.

Although the decrease has been shown in auto-pedestrian type accidents and collisions between two or more vehicles there has been a sharp increase, 125 percent, in the single car type of accidents.

WITH MANY students planning a quick trip home between the end of the semester and the start of the most important precautions are adequate rest and safe driving speeds, said Director King.

The release, showing the increase in fatal accidents this year, especially include those on the exit routes to the surrounding states, noted the Safety Council.

It is therefore important that students remain alert and although time is of essence a half minute stop every 150 miles will increase chances of a safe arrival concluded Director King.

BYU Graduate Named Fellow

Dr. Edwin B. Firmage, a 21-year-old Utahn now on the faculty of the University of Missouri Law School, was named as the first group of 15 White House fellows.

THE FELLOWS, selected by commission of 12 headed by David Rockefeller, president of Chase Manhattan Bank, will spend year working in the White House or for cabinet officers.

They will receive a base salary of $7,500 to $12,000 depending on their age. There will be an additional $1,500 if they are married and $500 more for each child.

FIRMAGE, a native of Provo is married and has three children. He is a graduate of BYU and the University of Chicago. He joined the faculty of the University of Missouri in 1964 as an assistant professor of law. He was an LDS missionary. Great Britain during 1955-57.

VIET ACTIONS

SAIGON—U.S. planes bombed North Viet Nam targets Sunday and Monday, including the old fortress of Dien Bien Phu. China charged Sunday that four American aircraft flew over a Communist Chinese province, but U.S. sources in Washington denied it.

The first full-sized U.S. infantry unit arrived Monday at Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon.

Air strikes against Communist Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam killed an estimated 260 guerrillas, according to U.S. military officials.

WASHINGTON

President Johnson was the target Monday of House Minority leader Gerald R. Ford (R-Mich.) as he attacked "Lyndon come lately" for what appeared to be hypochondria concerning his own civil rights. In a speech Saturday Ford had criticized Ford and other House Republicans for supporting a substitute voting rights bill which Johnson said "would have seriously damaged and diluted the guarantee of the right to vote for all Americans." Unlike the administration bill, the GOP measure would have applied in all states and would also have imposed local voting standards, such as literacy tests.

Ford said that prior to 1957 Lyndon Johnson had voted 100 percent of the time against civil rights legislation, and he quoted Johnson as having said that civil rights legislation is a farce, a sham, and an effort to set up a police state.

100 THOUSAND IN VIET NAM

It was announced Monday that the United States government expects to increase the number of military personnel in Viet Nam. Over 100 thousand men will be in Viet Nam by the end of summer. No announcement has been given to indicate that the Reserve will be called up or that the draft will be increased.

NO PRIVILEGED SANCTUARY

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday that North Viet Nam would not "be permitted to send tens of thousands of people in the south to attack South Viet Nam and live in safety and comfort there in the north." Rusk said that "The idea of the sanctuary is dead," and also warned that Communist China could not expect to be free from U.S. attack if she were to become directly involved in the conflict.

American planes have up to this point struck targets all over North Viet Nam with the exception of large population centers such as Hanoi and Haiphong.

MEDICARE, HOUSING, POVERTY

Final Senate-House compromises are expected this week on the Medicare and voting rights bills which were passed last week.

This week the Senate is expected to take action on President Johnson's housing bill and the House is expected to act on a $1,900,000,000 bill to boost the antipoverty program. In addition to extending and expanding federal housing and urban renewal programs, the Senate bill also calls for massive rent subsidies.
